

Master Mandate ('Mandate')

Customer or entity full name ('You'):	LONG VENTURES LIMITED
Customer type:	COMPANY
Customer number:	84613144	Date of signing:	12/5/26

When we talk about 'you' in this mandate, we mean the person or people or entity named above. When more than one person is named above, 'you' means each person individually and any two or more of those people. When we talk about 'we', 'us' and 'our', we mean ANZ Bank New Zealand Limited, and our related companies. We call the accounts, products, and services we provide you within New Zealand your 'ANZ products'.

Your authorised signatories can access your accounts, products, and services

We've set out below a list of all of your authorised signatories and how they can access your ANZ products.

Your authorised signatories must sign this mandate, so we have a sample of their signature to compare any instructions against. We'll require you to be an authorised signatory. Or, if you're an organisation, like a company trust, or partnership, we'll require a certain number of your directors, trustees, partners, or officers, to be authorised signatories. You may agree with us different authorised signatories for specific ANZ products (a 'specific authority'). The specific authority will apply if there is any inconsistency between that specific authority and this mandate.

When you sign below you're agreeing to our terms and conditions

When you sign below, and receive or use any ANZ product, you agree to the following:

- You agree you're bound by and will comply with the terms and conditions applying to the ANZ products, including our 'General Terms and Conditions' published on our website, anz.co.nz, or other terms and conditions we've agreed with you in writing. If you're an authorised signatory, you also agree to comply with those terms and conditions.
- You agree we can act on any instructions we receive from you or any authorised signatory, and you're responsible for any transactions using the ANZ products that we reasonably believe you or an authorised signatory have made and are consistent with this mandate.
- You agree we can collect and use information about you and any authorised signatory. We've explained what we can use information about you for, how we collect it, and who we can give it to in our 'General Terms and Conditions' or in other terms and conditions we've agreed with you.

If you're an organisation, like a company, trust, or partnership, you will be bound by, and will agree to, the terms above when any directors, trustees, partners, or officers of your organisation, sign below. We're relying on the fact you have authority to bind your organisation and appoint the authorised signatories set out in this mandate. If you are signing this mandate as the trustee of a trust, in signing this mandate you confirm to us that the trustees have the power, under the trust deed for the trust, and the Trusts Act 2019, to appoint the authorised signatories set out in this mandate.

How your authorised signatories can access your ANZ products

We've set out below how your authorised signatories can give us instructions and access and use your ANZ products. We've given each of your authorised signatories a 'designation'. We'll use this designation in the section 'the access your signatories have' to explain how that authorised signatory can access and use your ANZ products - particularly where they need to access accounts together with other authorised signatories.

Your signatories

A glossary of the types of access used above

Transact:	Your authorised signatory can give us instructions and access and use your ANZ product to complete any transactions including: • Transferring money between your ANZ products • Withdrawing money from your ANZ products, including setting up electronic payments, automatic payments, direct debits, direct credits and bill payments • Cancelling or changing any transaction • Transferring your ANZ products from one type to another • Rolling-over or reinvesting any fixed-term deposit or investment, or instructing us to pay the proceeds of any fixed-term deposit or investment to an account at the end of its term. Your authorised signatory can access and use any channel (see our General Terms and Conditions for what 'channel' means) and accept, on your behalf, any terms and conditions, including fees, for access and use of any channel.
Open/Close:	Your authorised signatory can ask us to open new accounts for you, ask for other ANZ products we offer, or ask us to close any of your existing ANZ products. Your authorised signatory can also ask us to add or remove an authorised signatory, or change the access any authorised signatory has.
Information:	Your authorised signatory can get information about any of your ANZ products or transactions you've completed.

We may have separate requirements for certain ANZ products

We may have separate requirements about how you and your authorised signatories can access particular ANZ products. We will tell you what these are when you get those ANZ products. We also have different requirements about how you sign loan and facility agreements or security agreements. If you're an organisation, like a company, trust, or partnership, we may require a certain number of your directors, trustees, partners, or officers, to sign these types of agreements.
